Arialink Broadband to Assist in Fundraising Efforts for Hurricane Katrina Victims

Lansing, Mich.—Arialink Broadband today announced its involvement in fundraising efforts of monetary donations to the American Red Cross and Hurricane Katrina Relief Fund. For every dollar donated by an employee, Arialink Broadband will match the donation.

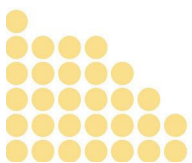

The death toll and lost victims of Hurricane Katrina is now in the thousands. United States President George Bush has described it as “one of the worst national disasters in our nation’s history”. Arialink Broadband has chosen the American Red Cross as the charity to contribute funds to, an organization whose mission is to provide relief to victims of disasters and help people prevent, prepare for, and respond to emergencies.

Arialink Broadband is committed to community involvement and corporate social responsibility. “We’re more than a thousand miles away. We have jobs, families, responsibilities. The easy thing to do would be to assume someone else will help and millions will...but it still won’t be enough. I’m proud to say that Arialink will be doing something,” said Tim Lebel, Arialink Broadband Vice President of Operations.

Arialink Broadband’s goal is to have full employee participation. If you are interested in assisting with Arialink Broadband’s contribution to the Hurricane Katrina Relief Fund, please call (517) 492-1302.
